Crocker and Stanley Went Back on Their Word—All Stars Trip Postponed.

Again the All Stars failed to get away for their tour to Maine Sunday. Everything was arranged and just before starting time two men who managed Hughes states gave their word to be on hand, Charlie Crocker and Bill Stanley, failed to appear. To be sure of their coming Manager Hughes telegraphed to them to be on hand and received their reply. They are black-balled from the All Stars, asserts the plucky manager, and he is very indignant over their not keeping their word. Although the never-put-down manager will make a hard stab at trying to collect a team and start Tuesday, men that he was banking on and men of their word get the manager's goat when their appearance could not be seen.

BOSTON BRAVES AT LAST ON TOP

Giants' Defeat by Cincinnati Results in a Tie for First Place—

On July 18, Boston Was Last in National League—

State Hospital Wins in the Tenth.

New York, Aug. 23.—Success has finally crowned the struggle of the Boston Braves to work to the top of the column in the National league race. Although Stallings' men did not play today, the champion New Yorks went into action with Cincinnati and lost their straight game to the Reds. The Giants were but half a game ahead and their defeat pulled them down to a tie with the Braves for first place. George Stallings has made baseball history by his remarkable feat in bringing the Braves from the bottom of the list to the top. On July 18, only a little more than a month ago, the Boston Braves were in last place.

If the Giants, with their pitching corps demoralized and in the midst of a batting slump do not take a brace soon, they bid fair to be passed not only by the Boston but by either St. Louis or Chicago—perhaps by both.

The American league race is still exclusively an affair of the Philadelphia world's champions. The Boston have closed up slightly but are still nearly 100 points in the rear.
